

YULIN PESTO (玉林香蒜)

Country of origin: China

Category: Special Signs of Geographical Indication Products

Type of product: Garlic

Geographical Area: Guangxi Zhuang Autonomous Region, Yulin City Yuzhou, District jurisdiction administrative region

Specificity of the Product: Yulin garlic is related to lilies and is an annual herbaceous plant. It is also known as Yulin bone garlic. The leaf is green or dark green, fresh and clean. The garlic bulbs are large, solid, with a distinctive spicy, sweet, crisp, juicy, excellent quality. They are very resistant to storage and can be stored in room temperature dry storage for some time. Their spicy flavor is particularly rich and better tasting.

The garlic is anti-inflammatory, good for the stomach, fevers, and gas. Because of its unique geographical conditions, climatic conditions and unique cultivation methods, there are unique varieties of this garlic. It is exported to Hong Kong and Macao, Southeast Asia, Europe and Latin America and other places in the international market. It has long enjoyed prestige in the domestic market. In 1985, this garlic was included in the "Chinese specialty flavor guide" series under "Guangxi specialty flavor".
